

THE TRADE REVIEW OF DUN & COMPANY

THE REPORT ON BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

Better Prices Are Looked For In the Immediate Future—Bank Failures Cause Temporary Hesitation—Crop Returns Indicate Disappointment—Failures of the Week.

New York, Sept. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Better prospects and relief from monetary anxiety do not yet bring larger demands for finished products, though large buying of pig iron, wool, leather, hides, cotton and other materials continued to show a growing business tending to the belief that a general movement upward in prices will come with the replenishment of dealers' stocks this fall.

Most prices are extremely low, so that nothing more than ordinary demand would advance them. But bank failures at New Orleans cause temporary hesitation, crop returns indicate disappointment in some cotton and some spring wheat states, prices of corn and oats make it unprofitable to sell at present, the number of manufacturing works and mines in operation does not gain, but rather decreases, reductions of wages are somewhat numerous and occasionally resisted by strikes. All these conditions diminish for a time the buying power of the people.

While many think general improvement cannot come until the election has removed political uncertainties, others expect soon to see the result anticipated. The weekly output of pig iron decreased 26,573 tons in August to 130,500 tons, against 217,300 in November, a shrinkage of 40 per cent. Other works still have stopped since September began.

The output of Connellsville coke was 65,997 tons weekly, against 166,000 Oct. 6 last year, and 5,640 ovens are at work, against 13,511 then, with 10,000 workers now idle.

Sales of wool for the week have equaled the normal consumption for the first time in some months, not because manufacturers have more orders or are doing more work, for no gain is seen in the demand or output. The buying is mainly speculative, based on the belief that prices must advance.

No considerable decrease appears in the enormous stock of print cloths, although the output has been reduced about half for two months, and a fifth of the year's supply remains in the hands of the makers, but they have advanced the price 3-16 per cent during the week. For other goods there is a better demand and manufacturers have advanced prices because of the rising cost of material, the average for all cottons having risen 5.3 per cent since Aug. 6, but stocks of many kinds are large.

The Financial Chronicle's annual report makes the last crop of cotton 7,162,473 bales, the consumption north and south 2,695,810, and the exports 4,712,912 during the year. No account of southern mill stocks is attempted, and no estimate is yet given of the crop now coming forward. The government report is even more gloomy than a year ago, making the condition the lowest for many years. There is no doubt that the damage has been serious, as the price has advanced to 8 1/2 cents, with much speculative buying.

Wheat declined a cent, but then advanced, closing a cent up for the week. Western receipts still exceed last year, having been in two weeks 11,229,038, against 10,323,288 bushels last year, while Atlantic exports, flour included, have been for the same weeks, 3,933,265 bushels, against 2,417,872 last year.

Corn is almost wholly out of danger and the yield is generally expected to be the largest, as the price here is the lowest ever known.

Failures for the week have been 315 in the United States, against 187 last year in the United States, and forty-seven in Canada, against thirty-four last year.

ALASKAN MINERS IN TROUBLE.

Men Returning from Cook's Inlet May Be Subjected to Suffering.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Information received at the treasury department indicates that there is likely to be much suffering among the miners at Cook's Inlet who are returning from the Alaskan gold fields unless the commercial companies which took them north provide for their passage home.

More than a year ago the department notified the commercial companies that thereafter the government could not furnish transportation for these miners and that if the companies took the miners north they must look out for their return. It is said that if all of the cutters in the Bering Sea were pressed in the service they could not accommodate more than 120 men. There are said to be nearly 1,000 of these returning miners now at Cook's Inlet.

Says Judges Are Palace Tools.
London, Sept. 12.—A correspondent declares that among the judges appointed on the special tribunal at Constantinople to try the cases arising from the Armenian massacre there is not a single honest and upright man, all being notoriously corrupt and servile palace tools.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN HURT.

In a Panic During a Fire Many Persons Are Crushed.

Arcola, Ill., Sept. 12.—An alarm of fire was the cause of a frightful stampede in the opera house Friday night during the progress of a gold meeting. The house was crowded from the doors to the platform, the audience including quite a number of women with their children. The meeting was nearly over when the fire bell sounded in the city hall near by, and a few minutes later the hose carts rattled by the opera house.

The shouts of the firemen were heard distinctly as they passed with their apparatus, and shortly after smoke drifted into the opera house through the open windows. The fire was in a building on Oak street, in the rear of the opera house, but the audience, in ignorance of the situation, became panic-stricken in an instant. A wild rush was made for the street, in which everybody took part.

In their mad desire to escape, men ran over women and children and trampled them. After the hall was emptied a number of women and children and a few men were found to be seriously cut and bruised. That no deaths resulted from the stampede is regarded as a miracle.

Trades Union Congress Adjourns.

Edinburgh, Sept. 12.—At Friday's session of the British trades union congress it was decided to send two delegates to the American labor congress and it was also resolved that the British trades union congress meet at Birmingham in 1897.

A resolution against the employment of children under 15 years of age in factories and workshops was opposed by representatives of the textile industries because it would inflict great hardships upon those least able to bear it. The motion, however, was adopted by a vote of 118 to 105. The congress also adopted a number of resolutions calling for amendments to the factory and workshop act. After the congress had elected a new parliamentary committee, it adjourned.

Judge Harmon Replies to Bryan.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Judson Harmon, attorney general of the United States, has issued an open letter in answer to that portion of William J. Bryan's letter of acceptance relating to federal interference in local affairs. Mr. Harmon in this letter quotes the authority under which President Cleveland acted in ordering the federal troops to Chicago during the railroad riots of 1894, claiming that the action was taken not to enforce the laws of the commonwealth of Illinois, but to enforce the laws of the United States alone, which the president has full power to do without waiting for the request of the executive or any other official of the individual state.

Home for Feeble Minded Burns.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 12.—The temporary buildings and workshops of the institute for the feeble-minded children, in which were housed 120 feeble-minded children, burned to the ground at 9 o'clock Friday night. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin and is believed to have been the work of some of the boys who were confined there, and who have lately made several ineffectual attempts to escape. Several children were seriously injured in being removed from the burning building, but it is believed none was lost. The buildings destroyed were erected at a cost of $12,000 and were insured for $6,000.

Saloon Wrecked with Dynamite.

Burrows, Ind., Sept. 12.—The temperance people have commenced open war against a quart shop conducted by Sim Burrier. About midnight the villagers were awakened by a heavy rumbling which made the earth tremble. Daylight disclosed that the saloon had been partially destroyed by dynamite. Burrier has appealed to the Delphi authorities to investigate the affair, but sentiment is strong against him. More violence is feared.

Money and Man Are Missing.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 12.—George R. Legg, treasurer of Pike county, has disappeared, leaving a heavy shortage in his accounts. His term expired but a few days ago, and he was to have transferred his office to his successor yesterday. When the safe was opened it was discovered that some $3,000 in cash was missing and an examination of the books showed a defalcation of $20,000.

Blown Up with Dynamite.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 12.—Early Friday morning the whole front of the handsome residence of Levi Waller, one of the wealthiest men of the town was blown in by dynamite. The family was asleep at the time of the explosion and was severely shaken by the shock. It is feared that Mrs. Waller may not recover from the fright. No motive is known for the outrage.

Another Man Is Choked.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—The Bank of Commerce was compelled to close its doors Friday. The bank owes depositors between $300,000 and $400,000, while the assets of the bank are about $800,000. The bank had quite a long list of small depositors. There was considerable excitement but no trouble of any kind.

CROWDS AT CANTON GREET M'KINLEY

MANY DELEGATIONS CALL ON THE CANDIDATE.

Men From Vermont, and Others From Loraine County, Ohio. Pay Their Respects to the Republican Standard Bearer—Preparations for the Notification at Louisville Complete.

Canton, O., Sept. 12.—Friday was a day of crowds and crushing in Canton. Three people fainted and were carried away from the McKinley porch, where they had joined in the crush of thousands to grasp the republican nominee by the hand. After traveling nearly 700 miles the Vermont delegation reached Canton early in the morning, and marched quickly to the McKinley home and paid their respects before 9 o'clock. State Chairman Merrill began the speeches. Col. George T. Childs, national committeeman from Vermont followed. He congratulated Major McKinley on the result of the Vermont election. Mr. McKinley replied at length.

Two thousand iron and steel workers from Lorain, O., reached here at noon. The delegation numbered about 2,500, and was made up of the people of Lorain county and vicinity, composed largely of farmers, but containing men from the steel works at Lorain.

Elyria, Wellington and smaller towns of the vicinity were also represented. At the depot these delegations were united with the Lincoln club of Erie, Pa., and representatives of the Pennsylvania Republican league. The crowd which surrounded the McKinley home about 1 o'clock numbered 5,000 or 6,000 people. Judge J. W. Steele of Oberlin, Lorain county, spoke on behalf of the farming and other interests of that section. Judge J. F. Downing spoke on behalf of the Erie Lincoln club. Maj. McKinley in his response took Lincoln as his theme, comparing the political conditions of the '60s as evidenced by Lincoln's letter, with those of to-day.

After Maj. McKinley had responded to the combined delegations from Erie and Lorain counties, Govs. Lippitt of Rhode Island and Bushnell of Ohio arrived. Maj. McKinley was personally welcoming his thousands of callers. The crush was terrific. William Cusick, a baptist minister of Lorain, aged 87, fainted in the crush and for an hour was in a serious condition. Physicians were summoned, but before they had arrived E. H. Turney of Amherst, O., and Mrs. Flickinger of Lorain had succumbed to the crush and heat and were prostrated and carried away. All this time thousands were pushing up to the McKinley porch.

Delegations are expected today from Homestead and Pittsburgh. Information received here is to the effect that the Pittsburgh office men of the Pennsylvania lines will come on a special train profusely decorated. The Homestead men will be brought here on three trains. The mills all close for the occasion.

Maj. McKinley will deliver a short speech from the platform in the park for the republican rally on the 18th inst. The day is the occasion of speeches by Senators Thurston, Cullem and others.

TO NOTIFY PALMER AND BUCKNER.

Leaders in Today's Ceremony Reach Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—All of the principal figures in today's notification ceremonies have arrived. General Buckner came up from his home in Hart county in order to be on hand to welcome General Palmer to Kentucky. The vice presidential nominee at his request was received without any demonstration, being quietly driven with his family to the Galt house. General Palmer arrived in the evening, a reception committee of 300, comprising the local national democratic leaders, meeting him at the depot. From 8 to 10 o'clock Friday night the two candidates held an informal reception at the Galt house.

Col. John R. Fellows, who is to make the speech notifying Gen. Buckner of his nomination, is at the Louisville hotel. Senator Caffery will perform a like service for General Palmer. Preparations have been made for a large crowd at the Auditorium. Delegations from neighboring Kentucky and Indiana towns will come on excursions to be run by all the roads centering here.

Gold Republicans of Montana.

Helena Mont., Sept. 12.—The gold wing of the republican party has endorsed the St. Louis platform, pledged support to McKinley and Hobart and declared for woman suffrage.

Big Defalcation in Berlin.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—Herr Oskar Schuster, a director of the Norddeutscher Handels-Gesellschaft, has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement. The newspapers estimate the defalcation at 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 marks. Other arrests are said to be impending.

Will Buy Milk With It.

Sparta, Ill., Sept. 12.—By the attainment of his majority Walter Wiley has come into possession of $800,000 left him by his grandfather in New York. He will continue to reside at Sparta, and will reopen the McKinley dairy, which has been shut down for lack of funds.

BRYAN ON A TRIP TO SOLID SOUTH

THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE ON HIS WAY.

He Left Lincoln On Friday Night On a Second Campaigning Tour and Will Visit the Southern States—Indiana Democratic Committee Choose a New Chairman.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 12.—The silver clubs of this city, headed by a brass band, escorted William Jennings Bryan to the depot Friday evening, where a large crowd gathered to say good-by to the nominee. Mr. Bryan started on his campaigning tour through the south and east at 9:15, taking the Missouri Pacific train for Kansas City, where he arrived at 6:15 this morning. There were demonstrations along the route, among which were those at Nebraska City and at Union. At the first-mentioned place a large crowd met and listened to Mr. Bryan, a stop of twenty minutes having been arranged for. Mr. Bryan addressed the citizens of Kansas City at 9 o'clock. At 9:45 he continued on his trip to St. Louis, making short speeches from the platform of the car all along the route. Mrs. Bryan will not accompany her husband through the south, but is expected to join the party later.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—Everything here is ready for the Bryan demonstration to-night. The arrangements for three big mass-meetings are complete. All the railroads leading into St. Louis have made special rates, and immense crowds are here.

MARTIN TAKES HOLTS' PLACE.

Taggart of Indianapolis Declines to Be State Chairman.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—Thomas Taggart would not accept the chairmanship of the democratic state committee, and Parks M. Martin of Owen county was elected. The new chairman is a member of the state committee from the second district and is clerk of the Owen county circuit court. He is an "original" free-silver man. Chairman Martin has announced the appointment of a campaign committee composed of Gov. Matthews, D. F. Allen of Frankfort, Thomas Taggart of this city, James Murdock of Lafayette and John E. Lamb of Terre Haute. Allen W. Clark of Greensburg was placed in charge of the literary bureau. Chairman Martin says he proposes to conduct a vigorous campaign.

Gov. Altgeld at Pana, Ill.

Pana, Ill., Sept. 12.—The silver campaign was opened in this city Friday with a big meeting and rally. The people came in on special trains, and farmers drove in from all the surrounding country. Many business houses and residences were decorated, and the city was in holiday attire to greet the 8,000 visitors. A procession a mile in length proceeded to the fair ground south of town, where Gov. Altgeld delivered an address, devoted principally to the currency question. He spoke for an hour, and was frequently applauded. The other speakers were Senator Ben F. Caldwell of Springfield, candidate for congress from this, the 17th, district; State Central Committeeman J. B. Ricks of Taylorville, and William Ragan of Shelbyville.

Silver Men Win in Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 12.—Democratic primaries for the selection of delegates to state, congressional, judicial, senatorial and county conventions were held pretty generally in the cities and towns around Boston Friday night, as well as in this city. The result of these, combined with the caucuses held on Thursday night, shows that the eastern Massachusetts democrats have declared for Bryan and Sewall, for the ratification of the Chicago platform and determined upon George Fred Williams as their standard-bearer in the coming gubernatorial campaign. In all the caucuses thus far heard from the gold-standard men have composed a very small minority.

Recognizes Bryan and Watson.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 12.—The populist state executive committee, after a day's secret session, adjourned. Chairman Bradley gave out two resolutions adopted by that body. The first of these recognizes Bryan and Watson as the national ticket of the party, and the second is a denial in toto of the newspaper charges that have been made throughout the state of a deal between republicans and populists to carry the state offices for the latter and the state for McKinley. A committee will prepare an address to this effect.

Watson Will Be Notified.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Chairman Butler of the populist national committee, has received a letter from Senator Allen, chairman of the notification committee, informing him that his letter of notification would be delivered to Mr. Bryan on the 15th inst. Senator Butler's letter to Mr. Watson will be delivered on the same day.

Fusion in Colorado.

Pueblo, Col., Sept. 12.—Bryan and Sewall electors and fusion with the national silver party with a populist for governor, is the result of a three days' session of the people's party convention.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—

The Bank of Commerce, operated under state laws, failed to open its doors this morning.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League, Yesterday.

Baltimore yesterday lost to Brooklyn. The game would have clinched the pennant, although for that matter, the pennant has been conceded to the Orioles for weeks. Poor Cincinnati again lost to Louisville in the ninth.

Yesterday's scores:

At Pittsburgh—
Chicago 0 1 1 0 0 0 1 0—4
Pittsburgh 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—2
At Baltimore—

Maine Will Vote Monday.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—But two more days remain before the voters of the state of Maine will register their verdict. There is no question that the republicans will carry the state by a large plurality. They will elect a governor, four congressmen, including Mr. Reed, but the various state candidates for senators and representatives and congressmen are running upon so many different platforms that there will be more split tickets than ever before in the history of the state, and only the counting of the ballots can demonstrate the real temper of the voters.

Germany May Make Trouble.

Zanzibar, Sept. 12.—The belief is prevalent here that Germany does not intend to acquiesce in the action taken by the British government through Rear Admiral Henry Rawson in appointing Hamoud Bin Mohammed Bin Said, sultan of Zanzibar. Rumors are in circulation that it is the intention of the German authorities to reinstate Said Khalid on the throne from which he was deposed by force of British arms. These rumors have caused great uneasiness here. There is a feeling that Germany is not acting in a friendly spirit and is seeking to make an issue with Great Britain.

Two Bookkeepers Arrested.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—The rottenness in the Union National bank was made known Friday when United States Bank Examiner Johnson swore out two affidavits against the two principal bookkeepers charging them with embezzling the entire amount of the defalcation. The first affidavit charged Bookkeeper Frank B. Leefe with embezzling $185,558.79. The second charged Bookkeeper L. La Combe with the embezzlement of the remainder, in round figures, $406,000. The amount of the embezzlement, so far as can be ascertained, is $592,000.

Men in a Burning Mine.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 12.—The large shaft of the Isaac McIntosh Coal company at Caseyville, north of here, was destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The flames caught from the boiler in the shingle roof of the boiler room and spread to the tippie and blacksmith shop, totally destroying everything above ground and ruining the valuable machinery. The danger signal was sounded and the 300 miners at work underground escaped by the air course. The loss is about $5,000; fully covered by insurance.

Kentucky Toll Gates Destroyed.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Sept. 12.—A mob of 125 men on horseback, near Tatem Springs, Washington county, Ky., destroyed ten turnpike tollgates and admonished the tollgate keepers that the next step would be to lynch them if they attempted to collect toll hereafter. This is only a part of an uprising in this part of the state in favor of free turnpikes.

Afraid of Texas Fever.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 12.—Governor Holcomb's attention has been called to what is supposed to be Texas fever among a herd of cattle near German town, Seward county. It is understood a number of the cattle have died. Governor Holcomb sent Dr. Peters of the agricultural station to the district, and if matters are as bad as represented a state veterinarian will be appointed.

Unable to Fix the Blame.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 12.—The coroner's jury, which has been in session since Sunday night, returned a verdict that the twelve men who were killed in the opera house disaster Sunday morning came to their death by causes unknown. They were unable to place the blame on anyone, and the above was the only verdict that could be agreed upon.

Bryan to Go to Iowa.

Burlington, Iowa, Sept. 12.—Chairman Jones telegraphed the committee on democratic day at the semi-centennial celebration that Bryan would be here on that occasion to make a speech.

Treasury Officials Not Alarmed.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Treasury officials are not inclined to the belief that the action of the Bank of England in raising the discount rate 1/2 per cent will necessarily result in a prompt cessation of gold imports.

BRAGG AND VILAS TAKE THE STUMP

WILL SPEAK AGAINST FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Gilbert M. Wood and Will Start Out, As Will Most of the Members of the Gold State Central Committee—Old-Time Leaders Want No Bryanism.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—The leaders in the democratic gold movement will take the stump in this state at once, and this will be the main work of the gold committee. General Bragg, Senator Vilas and Gilbert M. Woodward will start in next week, and nearly every member of the gold state central committee will follow sooner or later.

UP THE NILE.

British Advance Is in Full Swing—Enemies Keep in Sight.

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 11.—Dispatches just received from the front say that the North Staffordshire regiment, numbering about 900 men, arrived at Kosh camp, the southernmost fortified post on the Nile, yesterday, and will be pushed forward to Absarrah to-day. The Third brigade has reached Absarrah safely and the main body of the cavalry is arriving there. The cavalry scouts report the dervishes still in view south of Dugo, but the enemy retreats at the slightest sign of a forward movement. The Anglo-Egyptian scouts, feeling the way for the advance guards, are steadily pushing on to Kasbar, 14 miles further south, which will be the next place occupied. The troops, black and white, are full of enthusiasm and anxious for a brush with the enemy. The weather is hot in the extreme, but the soldiers are benefiting from being on the move.

MAKES AN EFFORT TO DIE.

Five-Year-Old Girl of Portsmouth, O., Swallows Carbolic Acid.

Portsmouth, O., Sept. 12.—Nellie Flannigan, aged 5 years, daughter of Michael Flannigan, an engineer on the Findlay, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, came near committing suicide yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid. Prompt attention saved her life. Her father, having applied for divorce, seeks the custody of this child. The little one wants to stay with her mother, and, before taking poison, got it into her head that her father was coming home. The child, however, did not say that she had tried to kill herself.

Vandalism Being Practiced.

Canea, Crete, Sept. 12.—The consuls and Mussulmans deputies have received further news that vandalism continues to be practiced. The Christians are devastating the districts of Milapotamo and Amarie, in the province of Rettimo, and destroying the olive trees and other property of Mussulmans. This creates an unfortunate impression just at the moment when the Christians have been granted large privileges. Until the firman arrives nothing can be done against the depredators.

Season Disastrous to Lemon Trade.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Consul Seymour, at Palermo, Italy, informs the state department that the exports of lemons to the United States for the season about to end will show an excess over last year of 300,000 boxes. He adds that, owing to the inferior quality of the fruit and the low prices prevailing in the United States, the season has been one of the most disastrous in the history of the trade.

May Have Trouble Over Customs.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—There are persistent rumors here of an impending customs war between Germany and Russia. It is stated that Russia intends to retaliate for some vexatious restrictions upon Russian imports imposed at the instigation of German agrarians.

Result of the Paris Tornado.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Several of the newspapers estimate the number of persons injured during the cyclone Thursday at 150. The Journal confirms the police statement that only three persons are so seriously injured as to be in danger of losing their lives as a result of accidents incurred during the cyclone.

Death of Outlaw Polk Wells.

Anamosa, Ia., Sept. 12.—Polk Wells, the notorious outlaw, who was transferred from Fort Madison to the Anamosa prison recently, died at the penitentiary Friday. The remains were shipped to his wife, who lives in Missouri.

Endeavor Convention Called.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 12.—The officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor announced yesterday that the dates of the next international Christian Endeavor convention will be July 7 to 12, 1897. San Francisco has been selected as the place.

President of Coe College Dead.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sept. 12.—Dr. James Marshall, president of Coe college of this city, prominent for years as an educator and Presbyterian divine, died suddenly Friday of pneumonia, after a brief illness.

Two Are Blown to Death.

Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 12.—An explosion of powder at the mills of the Ohio Powder company resulted in the instant death of two men.

HANOVER'S BAND PICNIC
SHOWS THE SENTIMENT

Cheers For McKinley Freely Accorded—Audience Was Good Natured and Persisted in Having a Good Time—White Metal Advocates
Scarce in Spring Valley.

If the free silver people got any inspiration as the result of the "band picnic" at Hanover yesterday, they are welcome to it. The audience was strongly republican and McKin-ley's name was loudly cheered. M.
G. Jeffris spoke for the republican side, while Wilson Lane upheld the free silver principles. The audience was a good natured one, but silver sentiment was lacking. One Janesville silverite climbed into a well known farmer's wagon to talk sixteen to one, but was pushed out over the wheels much to the delight of the audience. H. C. Taylor, the well known Orfordville business man, said that a canvass of Spring Valley developed the fact that the voters who would support the republican ticket outnumbered the men who would support Bryan at a ratio of three to one. His figures were based on a canvass made by school districts.

The discussion between Mr. Jeffris and Mr. Lane was in no way a joint debate, as both were so frequently interrupted by the crowd, which was best on having a good time, that speeches were an impossibility, but there was fun and sharp sallies without end. It was conceded, however, that Mr. Jeffris had much the "long end" of such discussion as the audience would permit. F. C. Burpee was the chairman and the speakers stood in the band wagon while talking. A base ball game and a dance wound up the festivities, and the Janesville delegation returned home, hoarse from yelling.

TWO RALLIES THIS EVENING.

Clinton and Spring Valley People to Hear
Republican Doctrine

A republican rally will be held at Newark town hall, this evening, to be addressed by F. P. Starr and A. E.
Matheson.

M. G. Jeffris speaks at Clinton tonight.

Ex-Gov. Hoard is booked as one of the republican campaign speakers for Orfordville; the date to be announced hereafter.

Craft's hall has been engaged as headquarters for the republican club of Edgerton during the campaign, and has been seated and lighted and is ready for occupancy. President Whittett has called a meeting of the club for this evening.

A man who was his own "walking both legs amputated below the knees holds the following records not with-

JOHN S. LYNCH FOR MCKINLEY.

He Denies the Report that He Was Against Republican Ticket.

The Brohead Independent says:
J. S. Lynch of Avon, was in town this afternoon and has been told that it is reported that he is a "sore-head" republican and will vote for Bryan.
"Jack" says emphatically that it is not so; that he is a republican from "toe to toe" and will work and vote for McKinley, protection and sound money. You can depend on "Jack"—
"he's all right."

BRIDGE WORK AT A STANDSTILL

Monterey Structure To Be Completed,
However, by November 1.

During the past few days, work upon the railroad bridge at Monterey has been at a standstill, pending the removal of the old iron work, so that the work of rebuilding the bridge proper, could commence. The work of removing the old bridge has been let to Karsou, of Chicago, while the work of rebuilding has been let to the Lassic Bridge Building Company, of Chicago.
The job will be finished, they think,
by November 1.

GOOD FARM HANDS ARE SCARCE

A La Prairie Man Couldn't Get One at $30 a Month and Board.

There is great demand for men to work in the country these days. A La Prairie farmer was in the city this week, and said that after traveling through the business part of the city, he was unable to find a man who was willing to work for him for the next two months at thirty dollars a month and board. Many farmers need men now to cut corn.

STREET CAR RECEIPTS LESS

Cool Weather Causes One-Half the People
To Walk

The cool weather during the past few days has had its effect upon the receipts of the Janesville street line, the patronage decreasing. Such is the report made by Supt. Cummings.

GOSSIP OF SPRING BROOK

About the School House.

Editor Gazette—Spring Brook people do not object to their children crossing Jackson street and Center avenue bridges but they do object to the almost entire absence of accommodations in school privileges when one member of the school board is on record as saying that if there was a school building in Spring Brook it would relieve the congested conditions of Douglas and Webster schools.
SPRING BROOK.

BRIGGS' FLYERS ARE NOW HERE.

Good Stable of Horses Quartered at the Fair Grounds.

The W. W. Briggs stable of trotters and pacers arrived in the city last evening from Milwaukee and are now at the fair grounds. The stable consists of ten well bred and fast horses and they are as fine a lot as have been at a county fair. All are entered in different events at next week's races.
A well known horseman connected with the stable says that on account of the many race meet failures throughout the country this summer, a better class of horses than ever are now traveling about the country looking for purses offered at county fairs.

SELLS HIS GRAPES FOR A SONG

J. F. Prichard of the Koshkonong Vineyard Blames Silver and Hard Times.

The present hard times and the talk of free silver is even effecting the grape peddling business. So says J.
F. Prichard of Lake Koshkonong.
Mr. Prichard is the possessor of the second largest vineyard in the state and has sold grapes in this city for the past twenty-five years, but never, in all his experience, has he been obliged to sell his fruit at such "give away" prices, as he is obliged to receive for it now. Stagnation, and the unsettled business condition owing to the silver craze, and other disturbances are responsible, he thinks.

TJ GRADE UP Y. M. C. A. CLASSES

Examinations To Be Held and Apt Pupils
Will Be Advanced

The Y. M. C. A. class work in the gymnasium will, for the coming winter, be divided into five different grades, so that each scholar will be placed in the grade for which he is best fitted. The regular work will be supplemented by examinations so that each one may be given an opportunity to advance as he becomes proficient.

The whole system is drained and undermined by indolent ulcers and open sores. Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve speedily heals them. It is the

A VERY pleasant afternoon was spent yesterday, at the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. J. O. Selleck and daughter, Miss Della Selleck, by a company of ladies from the Woman's Relief Corps. These gatherings are frequent occurrences, and are very much enjoyed by those that are fortunate to be present. A short literary program was given by some of their party.
At 5 o'clock tea was served, and the long table was loaded with all the good things such as the Woman's Relief Corps always serve. An hour later, the carryall came. Those present were: Mesdames Warren, Gibson, Parker, Collins, James, Blakely, Mil-
more, Kruse, Miller, Burrell, Willis, McDonald, O'Neill and Baker.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

WHITE SPEAR NOW IS WANTED.

The Whitewater Authorities Make a Charge Against Him.

"White Spear," the Indian doctor, who was forced to settle an assault case at Monroe by Janesville lawyers, was arrested last week on a serious charge preferred by Mrs. Wright, a young married woman living east of Whitewater. The warrant was issued by Justice Kiser and the case came before him for the preliminary examination. Nothing was done with the case, however. Attorney Rogers, of Fort Atkinson, who represented White Spear, objected to the appearance of Attorney Page in the place of and at the request of the district attorney, who had sent word that he was unable to be present. Mr. Rogers said that no one but the district attorney in person could conduct the examination for the prosecution, according to law. Justice Kiser agreed with Attorney Rogers, and dismissed the case out of hand, without any examination as to its merits. A fresh warrant was issued, returnable forthwith before Court Commissioner Pitt Cravath. The warrant is in the hands of the sheriff, who will try to capture the wily White Spear. The warrant was gotten out the same afternoon, and was taken to Fort Atkinson for service, but White Spear had not tarried at the Fort, and was not to be found.

OH! WHAT A RELIEF.

"I suffered with terrible pains in my left ovary and womb. My back ached all the time.

"I had kidney trouble badly. Doctors prescribed for me, and I followed their advice, but found no relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Oh! what a relief it is, not to have that tired feeling day after day, in the mornings as much as at night after a hard day's work, and to be free from all pains caused by Ovarian and Womb troubles. I cannot express my gratitude. I hope and pray that other suffering women will realize the truth and importance of my statement, and accept the relief that is sure to attend the use of the Pinkham's Medicine."

HOW VEST LOST THE FLOOR

And Recovered the Attention of the Senate.

Mr. Vest of Missouri was making a speech in the senate recently, when first Mr. Pepper arose and began to speak and then Mr. Sherman, all three addressing the chair at the same time, says the Washington Post. Mr. Vest looked amazed and after a minute's hesitation called out:

"Mr. President! Mr. President!"

The president paid no attention to Mr. Vest, however, when the Missouri member suddenly changed his tactics by declaring his desire to make a parliamentary inquiry. This appeal was not lost on the president.

"The gentleman from Missouri will state it," he said, ignoring Mr. Pepper and Mr. Sherman.

"I believe I was addressing the senate and the floor," said Mr. Vest, "but it seems that I have no longer got it. If I can't get it any other way I rise to a parliamentary inquiry to find out how I lost it."

There was a ripple of laughter in the chamber, Mr. Sherman apologized for his interruption and Mr. Vest continued to hold the fort.

STATE C. E. WORKERS MAY GATHER HERE

LOCAL DELEGATION AFTER THE ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Hotel Meh Offer One-Half Rates—Session Would Last Four Days and Bring Out at Least 1,000 People Here—Racine the Bower City's Only Competitor.

Does Janesville want the state convention of the Christian Endeavor societies? Local Endeavorers would like to find out.

The three local societies are now working with a view to securing the big gathering for next year. The holding of the convention in this city would mean that fully a thousand people would come here. The Janesville delegation to the state meeting are confident that they can secure the convention and say that Janesville can take care of the crowds a little better than any other town in the state. Janesville hotel men agree to give half rates if the convention can be secured.

Racine and Janesville, so far as known, are the only cities in the field. The convention would last four days.

A COREAN PROCLAMATION.

The King's Declaration After His Flight to the Russians.

Alas, alas! On account of our unworthiness and maladministration the wicked advanced and the wise retired, quotes the Pall Mall Gazette. Of the last ten years none has passed without troubles. Some were brought on by those we had trusted, the members of that body; while others by those of our own bone and flesh. Our dynasty of five centuries has thereby been often endangered and millions of our subjects have thereby been gradually impoverished. These facts make us blush and sweat for shame. But these troubles have been brought about through our partiality and self-will, giving rise to rascality and blunders, leading to calamities. All have been our own fault from the first to the last. Fortunately through loyal and faithful subjects rising up in righteous efforts to remove the wicked there is a hope that the tribulations experienced may invigorate the state and that calm may return after the storm. This accords with the principle that human nature will have freedom after a long pressure and that the ways of heaven bring success after reverse. We shall endeavor to be merciful. No pardon, however, shall be extended to the principal traitors concerned in the affairs of July, 1894, and of October 1895. Capital punishment should be their due, thus venting the indignation of men and gods alike. But to all the rest, officials or soldiers, citizens or coolies, a general amnesty free and full is granted, irrespective of the degree of their offenses. Reform your hearts, ease your minds, go about your business, public or private, as in times past. As to the cutting of the topknots, what can we say? Is it such an urgent matter? The traitors by using force and coercion brought about the affair. That this measure was taken against our will is no doubt well known to all, nor is it our wish that the conservative subjects throughout the country, moved to righteous indignation, should rise up as they have, circulating false rumors, causing death and injury to one another until the regular troops had to be sent to suppress the disturbances by force. The traitors indulged their poisonous nature in everything. Fingers and hairs would fall to count their crimes. The soldiers are our children; so are the insurgents. Cut any of the ten fingers and one would cause as much pain as another. Fighting long continued would pour out blood and heap up corpses, hindering communication and traffic. Alas! If this continues the people will all die. The mere contemplation of such consequences provokes our tears and chills our heart. We desire that as soon as orders arrive the soldiers should return to Seoul and the insurgents to their respective places and occupations. As to the cutting of topknots, no one should be forced. As to dress and hats, do as you please. The evils now afflicting the people shall be duly attended to by the government. This is our own word of honor. Let all understand.

By order of his majesty. Pak Chung Yang, acting home minister and prime minister.
Eleventh day, second moon, first year of Kon Yang.

Lost Days

The lost days of my life until today. What were they, could I see them on the street? Lie as they fell? Would they be cars of wheat? Sown once for food but trodden into clay? Or golden coins squandered and still to pay? Or drops of blood, dabbling the guilty feet? Or such spilt water as in dreams must cheer? The undying throats of hell a-thirst always?

I do not see them here, but after death God knows I know the faces I shall see. Each one a murdered self, with low last breath, "I am thyself—what hast thou done for me?" "And I—and I—thyself" (lo! each one saith) "And thou thyself to all eternity!"

Whom to Consult.
Doctor (to patient)—What ails you?
Patient—Indeed, I don't know. I only know that I suffer.
"What kind of life do you lead?"
"I work like an ox, I eat like a wolf, I am as tired as a dog, and I sleep like a horse."
"In that case I would advise you to consult a veterinary surgeon."—Texas Sifter.

A Clear Case of Give-Away.
The blushing bride-elect was rehearsing the ceremony about to take place. "Of course you will give me away, papa," she said.
"I am afraid I have done it already, Caroline," replied the old man, nervously. "I told your Herbert this morning you had a disposition just like your mother's."—Tit-Bits.

A Seasonable Rhyme.

A SPEECH TO BE LIVED DOWN.

Hostess (bringing up the rear with the duke of Wortlebury)—It seems a pity that a young man like you should have to go down to dinner with an old woman like me!

An easy lot the statesman has, As many sadly note. He puts a promise in the slot And gets himself a vote. —Washington Star.

A Sticker.
Mr. Freshley—What is the difference between a hen on the fence, a dollar, and a postage stamp?
Brown—Well, that's easy. A head on one side and a tail on the other. But I don't see where the stamp comes in.
Freshley—O, that's where the sticker is!—Up-to-Date.

Rough Goods Lead.

As was indicated early, the rough and semi-rough fabric remains master of the situation in lines of colored dress cloths browns, blues, (including the new deift blue) and greens are most sought for, although many dark reds toned down with black effects are in evidence. Recent arrivals of good things in these fabrics to retail at 50c, 62 1/2c, 75c and 87 1/2c, makes our dress goods counters an attractive place, for separate skirts, serges, wide wales, and storm serges are good and we show many values from 25 cents to $1.

Blacks are particularly strong...

They are shown in a varied assortment of design and weave: Jacquard patterns on wool and mohair grounds are numerous; Lizard weaves are one of the season's 'fads' and the disguised Crepon effects are favorably received. Many special values in all the novelties as well as in all lines of the staple serges, henriettas, &c.

NOTE IS ALL RIGHT AND MUST BE PAID

BUCKLEY GETS A JUDGEMENT AGAINST PETERSON.

Note For $3,000 Was Not Raised, Or Forged, the Court Decides, and Therefore, a Rock County Farmer Must Pay the Claim Of An Appleton Banker.

The $3,000 note in dispute, was not forged, and Ingbert Peterson must pay that sum, with costs, etc., to M.H. Buckley.

So, in effect, said the court yesterday. Ingbert Peterson, the defendant, is a wealthy farmer living south of Clinton, in Rock county. On October 2, 1895, he gave E. E. Jones a note for $3,000, payable in three months, the consideration being the assuming of the notes of one Kintz, amounting to $1,800, and fifty shares of stock in the Stracino Piano Company at Fond du Lac.

On October 10, Peterson came to Janesville, and told certain people that he had not given a note for $3,000, but for $485. This note, he said, had been "raised." The note was transferred to M. H. Buckley, who was connected with an Appleton bank. Buckley brought suit against Peterson. Peterson denied signing the note, and in other words, charged that it was a forgery. He maintained that the signature was not his, but on the trial yesterday, S. B. Smith, John G. Rexford and other experts on hand-writing, compared the signatures of Mr. Peterson and the signature on the note declaring them to be the same. At the conclusion of the case, Judge Bennett ordered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $3,000 and the costs, etc. Silas Menzie, attorney for the defendant, got a stay of sixty days, in which time he may take an appeal. Sutherland & Nolan appeared for Buckley.

OLD FRIENDS.

There are no friends like old friends,
And none so good and true.
We greet them when we meet them
As roses greet the dew.
No other friends are dearer,
Though born of kindred mold,
And while we prize the new ones,
We treasure more the old.

There are no friends like old friends,
Whom we have known of old,
In lands beyond the ocean,
Or near the borders of home,
And when they smile to gladden,
Or sometimes frown to guide,
We fondly wish those old friends
Were always by our side.

There are no friends like old friends
To help us with the load
That all must bear who journey
O'er life's uneven road.
And when unconquered sorrows
The weary hours invest,
The kindly words of old friends
Are always found the best.

There are no friends like old friends
To calm our frequent fears
When shadows fall and deepen
Through life's declining years.
And when our faltering footsteps
Approach the great divide,
We'll long to meet the old friends
Who wait the other side.

—David Banks Sickles.

PFEIFER'S TRIUMPH.

Pfeifer was a sergeant of marines, a fine, big, soldierly fellow, with a long, tawny mustache and wide open blue eyes that gave his stolid German face a frank, honest look, indicative of his character. It was in his service in the German army, before he left the fatherland for a new home in the "land of the free," that his broad, sturdy shoulders were "set up" in such soldierly fashion. He was a sergeant in the emperor's army, and afterward, when he came out to America and enlisted in the navy, he found service as a Jacky rather distasteful. The brief authority he had had as a sergeant had unfitted him a little for life in the ranks again, and although he was a good seaman and a faithful Jacky he grumbled under his breath once in awhile because the chance of advancement was so small and promotion so slow.

So, when his term was up, Pfeifer did not re-enlist. But he found after a little that he could not keep out of the service, and so he held up his hand beside his bare head and swore again to uphold the constitution and the government of the United States, but this time it was as a member of the marine corps, "a bloomin', jolly soldier and sailor too."

In the marine corps Pfeifer found that his service in the other two arms helped him very much. He was as steady as he was stolid, and as faithful as both. He knew the regulations backward, and all the requirements and duties of every man and officer in the corps. So when his rapid promotion landed him as a sergeant, he slid into the routine of his duties as easily and as smoothly as a seal slips off a basking rock into the sea. After awhile Pfeifer got an assignment to duty which made him very happy. He was detailed to command a detachment of marines on a United States warship under orders to patrol the Bering sea on the lookout for seal poachers.

There are no superfluous officers in the marine corps, and it sometimes happens that a sergeant has command of a small detachment on such duty. Pfeifer was delighted, and the men in his command were put through their drills and work with a thorough exactness which surprised some of them and made them a little inclined to grumble. The sergeant was a strict disciplinarian, and the men felt it, but he was not a martinet and he was enthusiastic for the service, and so the men settled down in the consciousness that Pfeifer was all right.

The warship went on her cruise and came back again, and Pfeifer's men were the pride of his heart. In not the smallest detail had the regulations suffered by their action, and the sergeant was happy as he contemplated the report he would make to his commanding officer. Then the warship was ordered to the Mare island navy yard for extensive repairs.

Now, there is a time honored and glorious custom of saluting the flag when a ship goes out of commission, in which the marines who have seen service on her take the largest part. The officers and the crew go ashore, all but one Jacky. Then the marines are drawn up on the quarter deck, facing the flag which flutters from the staff at the taffrail. The solitary Jacky throws his cap on the deck and stands bareheaded with his hand on the flag halyards, ready at the word of command to haul down the starry symbol of the nation's life and power. As the Jacky goes at his work and the flag begins to sink, the officer in command of the marines shouts:

"Present arms!"

Up go the guns with a rattle and a snap, and until the single Jacky has gathered the glorious flag in his arms to keep it from touching the deck as he hauls it down, every man Jack of the marine stands like a statue, with his eyes fixed on the stars and stripes and his rifle at salute. Then the marines march away. Jacky folds up the flag and tucks it in its berth, and the ship is out of commission.

Pfeifer knew every detail of the process. He could almost have told beforehand the very deck plank on which he would stand when he gave the order to salute the flag. He was all ready for the last order from the captain, but when it came it nearly knocked him down, for it was not the order he had expected. And, worse than that, it was not the proper order. The captain commanded him to take his men ashore, draw them up on the wharf and from that position to salute the flag as it fluttered down for the last time on the warship.

Pfeifer was absolutely astounded. For a minute almost he stood like a man stunned. Then an extraordinary thing happened. The stolid German servant, with whom obedience to orders was as natural and as necessary as the breath of life, broke every tenet and tradition of the regulations and protested at the captain's order. All the

him, and the man who, at his captain's command, would have stood his ground to the last gun fire and after that presented arms to death, rebelled when he found that captain breaking the glorious custom of years. It was to him the revelation and the demonstration of the impossible. The whole elaborate fabric he had built out of the traditions of army, navy and marine service came tumbling about his ears. The very foundations of belief were shattered by a single command which showed the sergeant that a captain who did not know his duty was, after all, a man. The color went out of Pfeifer's face, and he grew deathly pale. Then he luted and said:

"But I beg your pardon, sir, I don't know the regulation. I should salute from the quarter deck."
If he had received a blow in the face the captain could not have been so surprised. It was a serious thing, indeed, when Pfeifer protested at an order. But the sergeant's objection was well grounded. It recalled the regulation to the captain, and he knew his order was a mistake. Nevertheless it was his order and he would not reverse it. He hesitated an instant and then:
"You heard the order," he said.
"Obey it."

They were standing on the main deck just outside the executive officer's office. The executive was at his desk finishing up the last of his work before going ashore. The window was open, and he heard all that was said by the captain and the sergeant. When he heard the order repeated, the executive looked out of the window. He saw Pfeifer standing, white faced and determined, facing the angry captain. The sergeant breathed in quick, short gasps, and as the executive watched he lifted his hand again in salute and said:

"The moment my men and I are ashore, sir, we are no longer under your command. My superior officer then is the commandant of the marine barracks. If I go ashore, sir, I cannot obey your order to salute the flag, for my duty then is to report at once to my commanding officer."

The captain's face went red and white, and he lost his grip on his temper. His voice rose to an angry shout, and he exclaimed:

"Take your men ashore and salute the flag from the wharf."

Without a word Pfeifer saluted, wheeled on his heel and went away. Presently the bugle summoned the marines to fall in. Pfeifer was at their head. Down the gangplank they marched, and on the wharf they formed up.

"Right face!" shouted the sergeant.

His well drilled men wheeled as one and stood facing the marine barracks. "Forward, march," commanded Pfeifer, and off the marines of the warship swung to report to the commandant of the barracks, leaving an amazed and angry Jacky standing by the halyards, with no one to salute the flag as he hauled it down.

The captain was furious. He had been defied by a sergeant of the marines, and he meant to make Pfeifer smart for it, but he did not know that the executive had seen and heard it all. Pfeifer did.

Pfeifer went to the marine barracks and reported, but said never a word of the captain's order. His men were not so silent, and the barracks hummed with the story. The men knew there would be a reckoning, and they waited impatiently for the result.

The captain went to the admiral and told his story. The next morning Pfeifer was summoned before the admiral. There the captain confronted him. The captain was still angry. He knew down in the bottom of his heart that he had made a mistake, but he hoped to be able to force his complaint through by bluster, perhaps, if he couldn't make it appear bad enough for Pfeifer by his narration of the sergeant's refusal to obey his orders. So he told his story, and he counted that his word would stand against that of an enlisted man.

Then it was Pfeifer's turn. He gave a simple, straightforward account of what had occurred, and his honest face and soldierly bearing lent it strength. When it was finished, he added:

"And the executive officer was in his office, sir, and he heard all that was said."

"Orderly," said the admiral, "ask the executive officer to come here."

The captain's jaw fell, for he saw that he was caught in a double trap. He had failed to observe the regulations, and after that he had lied about it. He waited uneasily until the executive officer came. The executive's story was as Pfeifer had told it. A scowl came over the face of the admiral.

"You may go, sergeant," he said to Pfeifer, and when the sergeant had saluted and gone the admiral turned upon the captain and exclaimed:

"Captain Allenson, I am ashamed of you, sir. You are the damndest fool in the United States navy. You are a disgrace to your uniform and the flag and the service. I am amazed and chagrined that you should require to be taught the regulations of your service by a sergeant of marines, and that man not a native of your country. You are a disgrace, sir, and I am ashamed of you."

Pfeifer walked back to his quarters with his head erect and a smile under his long, tawny mustache, but in his heart there was a shade of regret, for he liked the captain, who was a gallant sailor, after all, and besides, although he had triumphed, it was through a disobedience of orders. So the matter never went any farther.—New York Sun.

The First Sapphire.

There is an Indian legend that Brahma, the creator, once committed a sin that he might know the torments of remorse and thus be able to sympathize with mortals. But the moment he had committed it he began repeating the mantras, or prayers of purification, and, in his grief, dropped on the earth a tear, the hottest that ever fell from an eye, and from it was formed the first sapphire.

Dollars and Sense

Some estimate how much a thing cost by its first cost. Others, who are wiser, estimate it by its worth.

We are selling Stoves worth just as much as we can learn how.

If we could make them cost less without having them worth less, we would do so.

Our efforts are in an another direction, We are all the time trying to have them worth more.

You can buy some stoves at lower prices than "Garlands", but none that are worth so much, or possess as many advantages.

Its Better to Pay a Fair Price For

WHY HE DOUBTED.

When He Married the Red-Headed Girl
Somebody Stole His White Horse.

"Stranger," he said to the traveler who had stopped at his unpretentious home for a night's lodging, "hev ye ever hearn tell ez how of ye see a red headed girl, ye're bound to see a white boss?"

"Of course. That's an old idea."
"I hearn it some time ago myself."
"It has some basis of fact, too. You see, the case simply is that there are more white horses in existence than there are red haired girls. So their appearing at the same time is more than likely a coincidence."

"Well, sir," replied the householder, in a tone that defied controversy, "you kin call it a coincidence er what ye please. I call it a darn lie. See that gal over there?"

"Yes."
"Her hair's red, ain't it?"
"It's—it's quite auburn."
"It's red that's a dead sure thing, an' I ain't ashamed of it. She's my wife. The day before I married her I had one of the purtiest white horses ye ever laid yer eyes onto. Hoss thief came along while the preacher was a-per-nouncin' the ceremony. I've got the red headed girl, but I ain't seen no white hoss sence. An' what's more, I don't expect to see none."

Answer Filed in Fair Will Contest.
San Francisco, Sept. 12.—The answer of Theresa A. Oelrich and Virginia Fair to the fourth amended opposition of the minor heirs in the Fair estate has been filed. In their answer they again declare that Van R. Patterson was not appointed by the court for the purpose of contesting the will of James G. Fair. They also made a general denial of the allegation that the will of Sept. 24, 1894, is not in the handwriting of the deceased and signed by him. They allege that the only interest the minor heirs have in the estate is under the will of Sept. 21, and deny that the minors will receive more under the terms of the will of Sept. 24, 1894, if that be admitted to probate. In conclusion, they ask the court first to pass on the issue as to whether the minor heirs have any right to make a contest.

Think Cleveland Has Spoken.
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—Chairman Bynum of the national committee of the gold democrats, it is believed, has received a letter from President Cleveland indorsing the Indianapolis platform and ticket, which he intends to make public at the notification meeting at Louisville Saturday night. The chairman will neither affirm nor deny the story.

Morning and Evening and especially the evenings are the temperature during September and October that require a coat---not not heavy. but enough to avoid the chill. The Top Coat is just the thing for weather of the present and that to come this and next month.

A Top Coat

must be a good fitter. It cannot sag at the shoulders---it must be practically creaseless. This year we will have rather loose front coats with the square English backs. The covert is the prime favorite for general wear, while the long, graceful Chesterfield is for formal wear. The new top coats which we offer are very finely made and cleverly fashioned. They are made in the new shades and the new fabrics.

A GOOD COVERT can be had for $10, but a much better one for $15. Good, reliable fabric is essential, and in our cheapest top coats we can guarantee the ability of the fabric to defy the climate.
